

New Ideas Circulate .

My name is Voltaire. I was in the age of when salons were used for when philosophers came together to share their research .

The french middle class got the ideas from salons by pamphlets, newspapers, and political songs. Even though they had no say they used their money to help their artists.

My name is Denis Diderot. I created the encyclopedia. Which helped people start thinking in new ways during the spread of the Enlightenment.

The middle class was attracted to the Enlightenment because they were able to say what they wanted to say even though they had restrictions. It allowed them to be closer to freedom of speech, also they were able to support their favorite artists even philosophers.
