

Popularity Of Novels

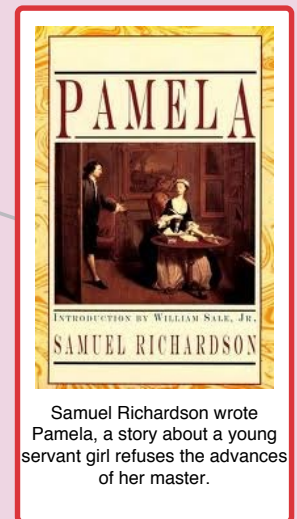

Popularity of novels

Daniel Defoe wrote Robinson Crusoe, a novel about a sailor stranded on an island and survives with the help of a native and his wits.

Henry Fielding wrote Tom Jones which was about an orphan kicked out of his adoptive home and travels all over England to win the hand of his lady.

Samuel Richardson wrote Pamela, a story about a young servant girl refuses the advances of her master.