

WW2 AND HITLER
JOHN H, KALEE H, HALEY V, AND JUSTIN P.

ADOLF HITLER

April 20, 1889- April 30, 1945

Austrian town of Braunu-am-Inn

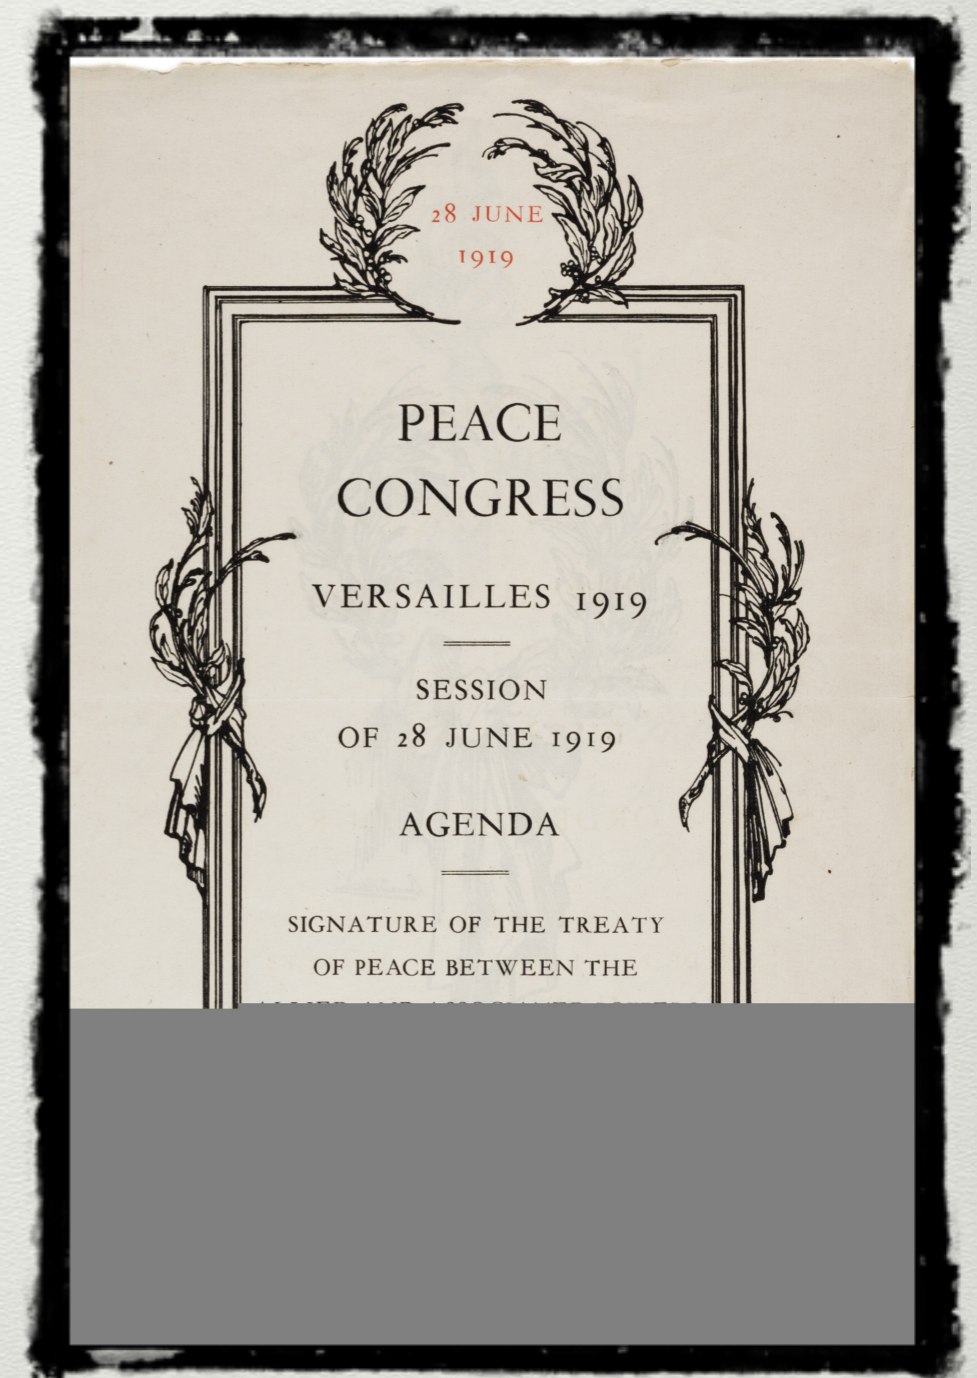

- After the war Adolf Hitler had a hate for the Treaty of Versailles. That hate led him to join the German Party, so he could build up the 'perfect' empire for the world to see.

He ignored the treaty? What??

- He built up an army and increased the number of weapons.
- Reclaimed land taken away from Germany.
- Continued his aggression.
- Avoided the Munich agreement and invaded Czechoslovakia.

- The Nazi party was changed after Hitler joined since he ended up taking power and eventually became dictator of all of Germany.
- The reason why he was accepted so easily was that his communication and persuasive skills were so good.

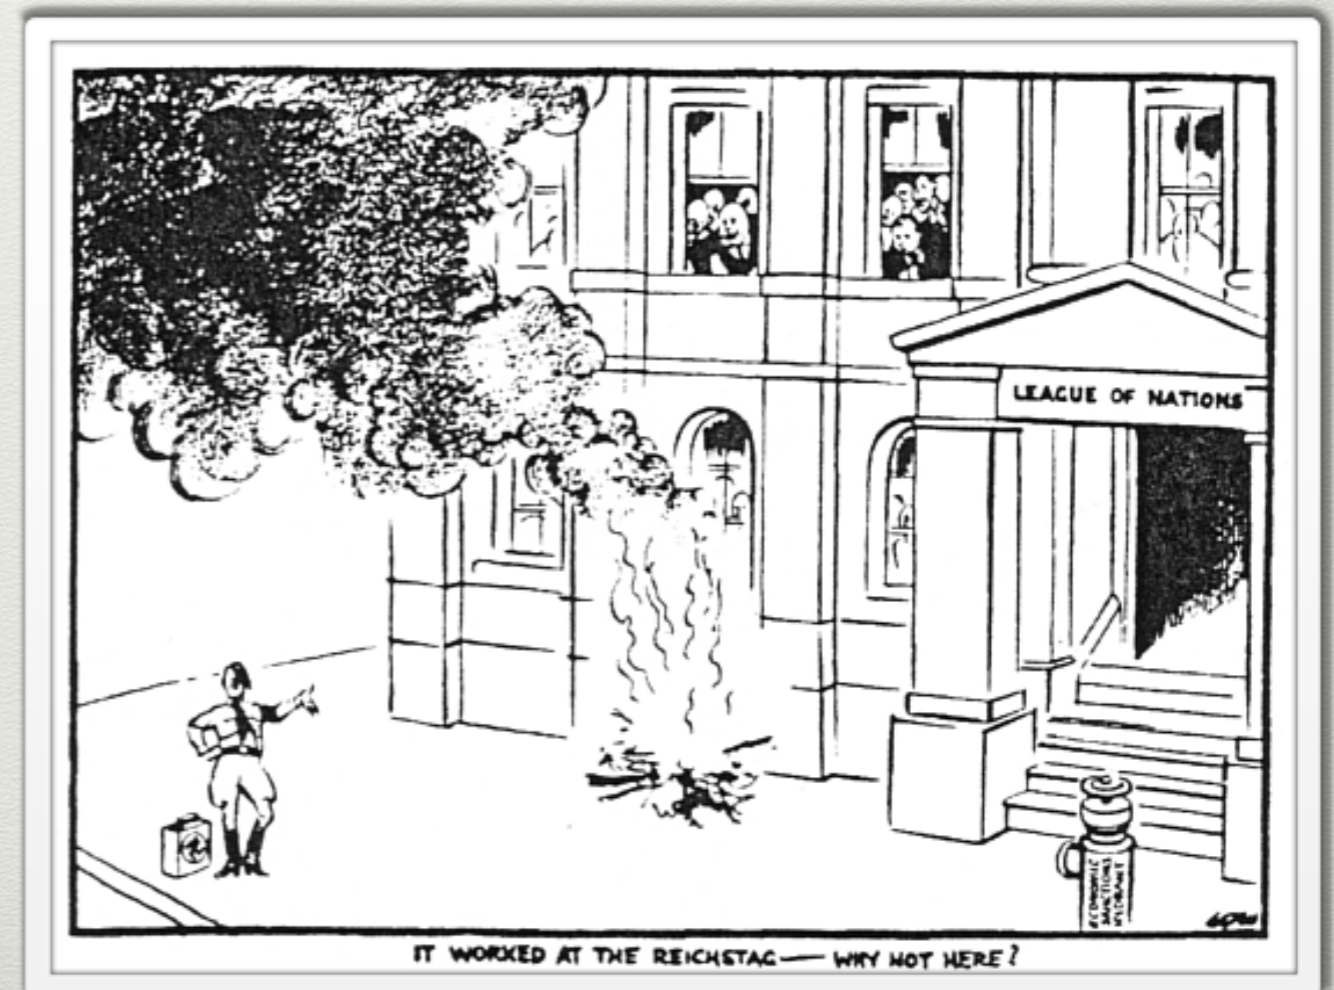

- Hitler made war actions that would both help strengthen and improve his army.
- He formed alliances and started wars with some of the places he allied with to ensure that he could control them.
- By doing this he let nothing stand in the way of his conquest over the world.

- At a later point in the war and appeasement was made so that Germany can strengthen itself by rearming.
- Hitler also responds to his actions in 1936 in which he was somewhat forgiven for.

- The League of Nations was basically a failure because they couldn't prevent the World wars, they couldn't stop invasions, and they were responsible for allowing 10 million soldiers to die.
