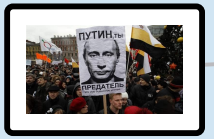
Agricultural policies



Peasants fought the governments attempt to take thier land by killing livestock and destroying crops.

They hoped it would boost food production and would use force/ terror to get peasants to work government siezed over 25 million privately owned frams in the USSR and made them collective farms.

collective farms - large government owned farms peasants

more than 90% of peasants lived on collective farms

Agricultural Policies

secret police

secret police hearded peasants onto collective farms at bayonette point

Soviet government eliminated kulaks who resisted